DR. GRACE LORDAN

LSE PROFESSOR | BEHAVIORAL SCIENTIST | AUTHOR | GLOBAL SPEAKER

HELPING PEOPLE THINK BIG, TAKE SMALL STEPS, AND BUILD THE FUTURE THEY WANT.

MEET GRACE LORDAN

Dr. Grace Lordan is an LSE professor, global public speaker, and thought leader. She is the Founding Director of The Inclusion Initiative and the creator of the MSc in Behavioural Science at the LSE. Grace's work focuses on building inclusive organizations, advancing women in the workplace, and preparing individuals for the future of work.

She has advised the UK Government on productivity and skills and leads the £2 million ESRC-funded DAPEW project. Grace's insights have appeared in Financial Times, Harvard Business Review, Fortune, and Reuters.

Keynote Speaker & Thought Leader

Grace delivers powerful talks on behavioural science, leadership, inclusion, and the future of work. Her sessions combine academic insight with practical strategies, leaving audiences inspired to take action.

POPULAR TOPICS:

✓ The Future of Work and Inclusive Leadership

✓ Behavioural Science for Better Decisions

✓ Women's Progress and Workplace Equality

✓ Building Productive, Inclusive Organizations

www.gracelordan.com

Author of Think Big, Take Small Steps and Build the Future You Want

Podcast Host & Media Contributor

Grace is the host of Thinking Big, where she explores behavioural science, success, and leadership with experts and innovators.

She's also a trusted voice for media outlets, contributing insights on bias, technology, and the modern workplace.

"Grace combines rigorous science with inspiring storytelling — a must-hear voice for the future of work."
– Event Organizer, London Business Forum

Connect with Grace

Whether you're planning a keynote, seeking expert commentary, or exploring collaboration — Grace would love to hear from you.

Jonathan.Phillips@fane.co.uk

Book Grace to Speak

Contact for Media Inquiries